

Northern Ireland Legal Quarterly

Volume 68 Number 3

Autumn 2017

The Pop-Up Museum of Legal Objects project:
an experiment in 'socio-legal design'
Amanda Perry-Kessaris

Carte de visite of 'The Lord Chief Justice of England' (Sir Alexander James Edmund Cockburn, 12th Baronet) by London Stereoscopic and Photographic Company, circa 1873
Leslie Moran

All under one umbrella? The Family Guide to National Insurance 1948
Jackie Gulland

Legal object commentary: anti-slavery medallion
Owain Johnstone

The Gweagal shield
Sarah Keenan

Encountering settler colonialism through legal objects: a painted drum and handwritten treaty from Manitoulin Island
Ruth Buchanan and Jeffery Hewitt

Janus-headed intaglio
Steve Crawford

Grotius' book chest, international law and material culture
Valentina Vadi

The holy thorn reliquary and cultural heritage
Sophie Vigneron

Privacy and the mashrabiya screen: Knowledge is Sweeter than Honey
Lisa Dickson

United Enemies
Kelly Stathopoulou

Self-sacrificing mothers as revered deities of social policy initiatives: reflections on the Huastec mother goddess and conditional cash transfer programmes
Melisa Handl

On the 'Horniman walrus'
Matthew Nicholson

When is a Haida sphinx: thinking about law with things
Genevieve Renard Painter

Probabilistic reasoning and the rhetorical reconstruction of DNA profiling evidence
Karen Richmond

ISSN 2514-4936 (online) 0029-3105 (print)

Northern Ireland Legal Quarterly

Volume 68 Number 3

Northern Ireland Legal Quarterly

Volume 68 Number 3

Special issue: The Pop-Up Museum of Legal Objects

Guest Editor: Amanda Perry-Kessaris

Autumn 2017